Deep Clean Your Freezer! Do you need an ice pick to rescue the food that's languishing in the back of your freezer? What better time than during this Lenten season to take everything out and examine it, tossing anything that has expired (including food you froze yourself), anything with freezer burn, and any frozen entrees or desserts high in saturated fat, sodium, or added sugars. This will free up your homemade broth and soups, and any main dishes you make in advance and want to have on hand for later in the week. When shopping, look for the best buys on protein (as well as frozen veggies and fruits) with your freezer in mind.
